Nikki Rohloff recognized at an early age, that fostering relationships was a foundational building block. She continued to hone that skill as she acquired a Bachelors of Arts in Accounting and Sociology, her CPA license and most recently her Birkman Certification.

Nikki is the expert and friend you want by your side when the landscape of life is uncertain. Her responsibilities over the years have run the full spectrum. While her current tasks primarily revolve around diving into the details, she also thrives on looking at the big picture and figuring out how all the pieces can come together to meet a client's financial goals. Culture and team building in the firm has been a passion of Nikki's as well and as a leader she has gained a reputation for going the extra mile to ensure her team's success.
